THE CIRCLE-T
METHODOLOGICAL GUIDE

IS AVAILABLE!!

The CIRCLE-T Methodological Guide is our very first resource! And it is now available on our website to download in ENGLISH, POLISH & GREEK. We are very excited to be sharing our discoveries with you. In this Guide, you will find a compilation of existing best practices, some research on the national contexts in Ireland, Poland and Greece, reports on sites visits, and more. It will be the basis for the rest of the work ahead!

THE CIRCLE-T GAME: THE THEATRE OF RECYCLING

In the last few months, the CIRCLE-T Team has been working hard at developing more resources - no rest for the wicked!

While Varsztatovnia finalised the CIRCLE-T Methodological Guide, Challedu started developing the CIRCLE-T Game. This Game will use game-based learning methodology to teach you about sustainable choices in theatre making. We are still developing the script and storyline for the Game but here are some screenshot of the first prototype!

CIRCLE-T TPM 2

DYT hosted the partners and some Review Board members this September for our second in-person TPM! We discussed the Game and its storyline but also kicked-off the work on our next two outputs:

THE CIRCLE-T SCRIPT

DYT, Challedu & Varzstatovnia will be recruiting the young people to compose the groups involved in the creation of the CIRCLE-T Script.

Led by our professional playwright, Violet Thomson, the 3 groups will collaborate to develop and devise a play that will be performed in all three countries at the start of the summer. We cannot wait to meet the brilliant young minds that will work with us! Get ready to hear from them soon!

THE CIRCLE-T TRAINING

In the meantime, GSA will work on developing the CIRCLE-T Training, a series of Modules tailored towards Youth Theatres, emerging theatre-makers & professionals, and training institutions. Partners will be trained in the very first module in our Learning, Training, Teaching Activity (LTTA) this coming February.

The next few months will get busy for us...
